Volunteer monthly news

Security reminders – Particularly for those who walk, please make sure anyone coming in the building with you also has a badge and should be entering that door. Anyone without a badge should only use the main entrance.

If you are in the building when a Missing Child Alert (previously Code Pink) drill or code is called, you do need to remain in the building until all clear is given. Or wait outside the doors until all clear releases the doors. This is a regulatory guideline for all.

Flu Vaccine updates – if you are receiving an email reminder from Immuware about your flu vaccine, Employee Health does not have it! The emails are only going to those who need to complete by the December 5th deadline. Please reach out with any issues and complete as soon as possible. We will move all who have not been approved through Immuware on December 5th to leave of absence in the volunteer system (and no one wants that 😊).

CGCH Volunteer Shirts – last call to order a long sleeve Glennon volunteer shirt. I will place the order November 3rd and when they arrive, you will pay in the Gift Shop at pick up. You can email me your size if you would like to order. Monday deadline!

Holiday volunteering – except for the actual holiday, we assume you are coming unless you tell us otherwise. Please make sure you have reviewed your plans and schedule with your department so we can get coverage if needed.

Happy November Birthday!

We are Thankful for YOU!

During this time of year as we pause and count our blessings, we here at Cardinal Glennon certainly include ALL our volunteers.

The time and talents you share with us, as well as your compassion for our patients and families, are gifts for which we give thanks!
